How To Use This Document: In the Consumer Guide, WeSH says that the social worker is to advance opportunities for maximum self-development and well-being, through psychosocial interventions. Psychosocial can be a dimension, scalable term that is also specific. In this document, the individual (consumer) may initiate his or her own plan for such activity or area of focus. Fill in the project or feature one has thought of, and develop the idea with the social worker, who will sign off on it. This and its results then become part of your record. You might mention this on an ITP Interval Form, keeping the detail here, as a record of your thinking and efforts.
